

Dear Future Guest,

As Edna St. Vincent Millay, a native of Camden, wrote in her famous poem "Renaissance,"

*"All I could see from where I stood was three long mountains and a wood.
I turned and looked another way,
and saw three islands in a bay."*

How accurately these words describe the unrivaled charm of Camden, and the High Tide Inn.

Our search to find the perfect spot to live and work took us from Quebec City to Charleston, S.C. When we found the High Tide Inn on the ocean our searching ended. We feel that Camden and the High Tide Inn possess the very essence of what people come to Maine to find in Spring, Summer and Fall. And think you too will be glad to end your searching here at the High Tide Inn on the ocean.

See you soon,
Innkeeper
Jo Freilich

The High Tide Inn

on the ocean

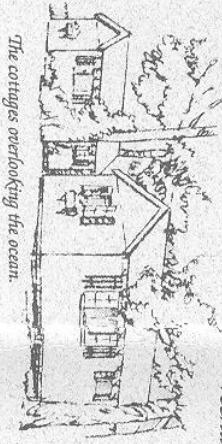

Your first view.

Your first view of The High

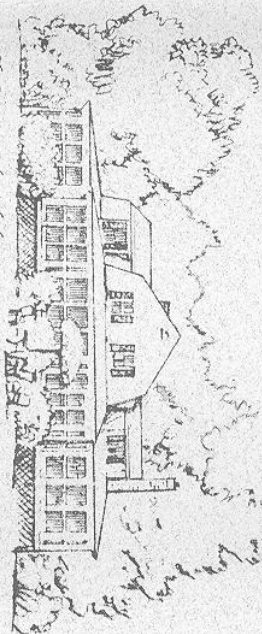

Tide as you turn off Route 1, is a vista of approximately seven acres of beautifully landscaped lawns, flowers and trees, nestled at the foot of Mt. Megunticook and sloping gradually down to the sea.

The Inn, the cottages and the motel units are intelligently located well off the road, offering a quiet, relaxing ambience, yet our location is within minutes of all the fabulous activities the area offers. For those who come to relax, our spacious lawns with comfortable lounge chairs and tables afford our guests the perfect spot to observe the tall masted schooners, the beautiful yachts that abound in this area, and the many lobster boats hauling right off our private beach. We have over two hundred and fifty feet of private beach for the use of our guests, and to be there on the nights when the moon path sparkles on the water is an experience not soon forgotten. At low tide, long walks along the shore, collecting shells and rocks is a fascinating pastime. For nature lovers, we are just down the road from the Camden Hills State Park with all of it's winding trails along the shore and into the mountains. This is also the perfect spot for joggers, as it permits a safe, yet beautiful area, in which to run.

The cottages overlooking the ocean.

The High Tide Inn was formerly a private estate, and the inn was the gracious home of the owners. The living room and the porch (where breakfast is served) are glass enclosed and offer spectacular views of the islands and all of the boating activities which unfold minute by minute.

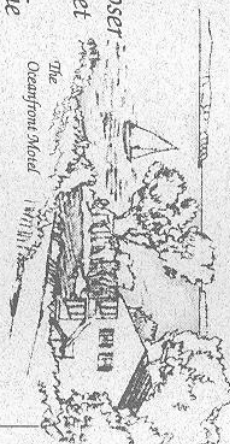

The Inn as seen from the lawn.

There are fireplaces in the living room, and the library. Of course, all of the public rooms are at the disposal of our guests.

The nature of the grounds and buildings encourage good companionship, and for some, new friendships are formed. The grounds offer at the same time a refuge for those who come to simply relax and recharge their spirits.

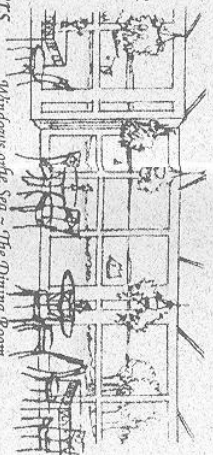

The High Tide Inn offers accommodations for every discriminating taste. The inn itself contains five non-smoking lodging rooms, three have beautiful ocean views. There are two motel units. The "Oceanview" has nine units and is situated on a knoll overlooking the lawn sweeping down to the ocean. The "Oceanfront" is an eight unit motel sitting on a bluff overlooking the beach. It would be impossible to be closer to the water and yet it also offers spectacular views of the mountains above. In addition, there is an "oceanview Duplex", which is two secluded motel units side by side. The cottages range from a 2 single bed/bath shower unit to a 2 double bed housekeeping unit. Most rooms have water views. All rooms have private baths.

The Oceanfront Motel

The Camden area is a vacationer's paradise! It is hard to think of any location which offers such a variety of choices. Whether it be swimming, sailing, golf, tennis, ferrying to the islands, hiking, antiquing, exploring lovely shops or dining in one of Camden's fabulous restaurants, or just plain relaxing, Camden has it all. ~ and all within minutes of the Inn. To have lakes, mountains, rivers and the sea all within easy access, not to mention the waterfalls at the Camden Public Landing, make the variety of scenery in this area unsurpassable.
